

NEW
ON NOWNESS

Complex Systems

by Desiree Dolron

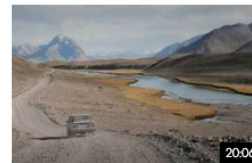

In Residence: Noé Duchaufour-Lawrance

Territoire: Exil

The Artist is Present

The Botanist

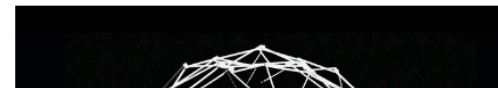

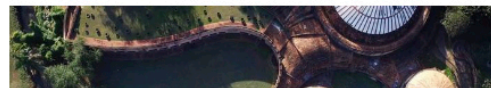

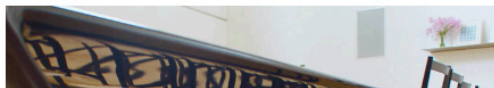

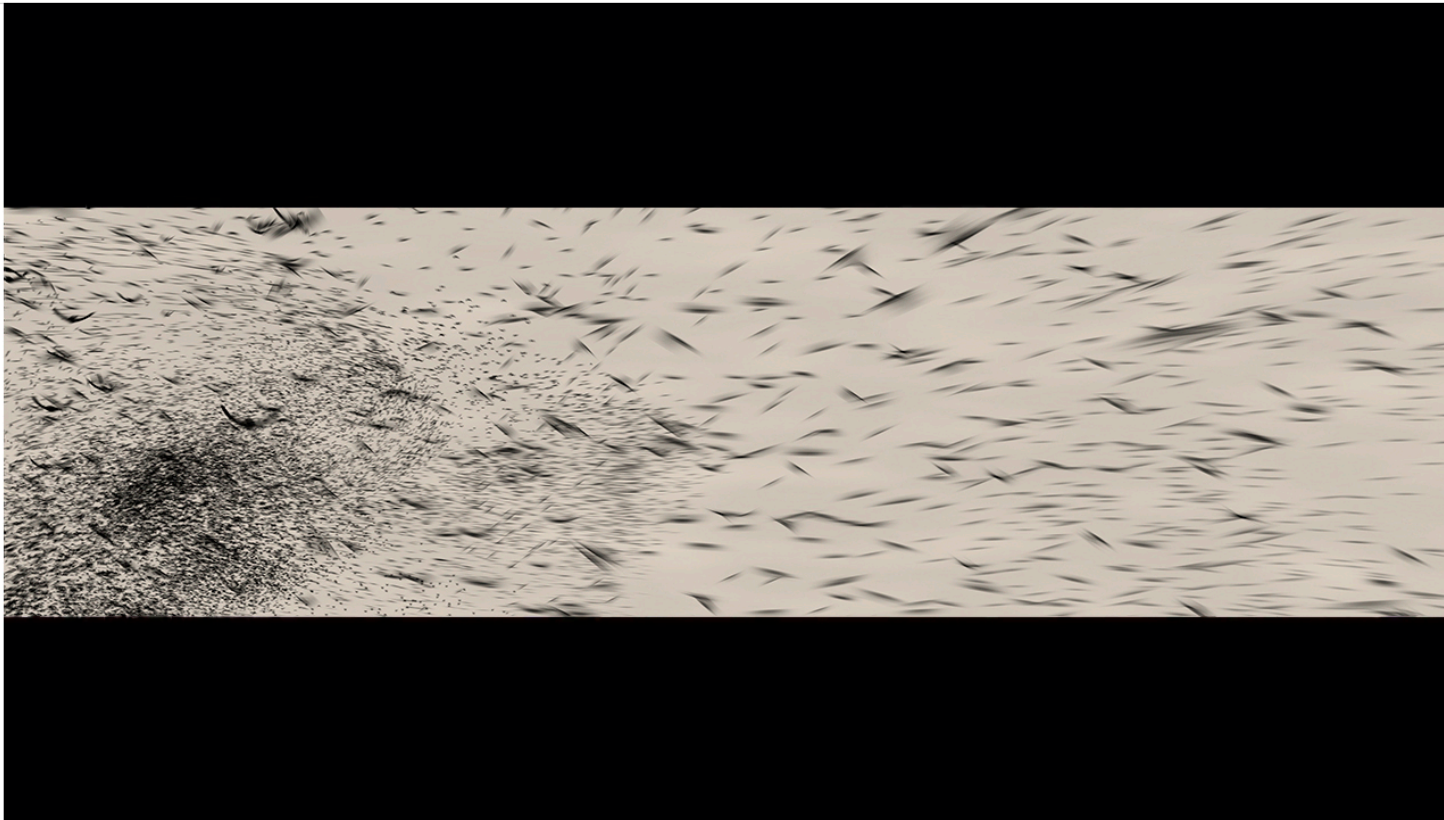

Other Voices: Buttmitzvah

Pride of Bukom

STARCHITECTURE

+ ADD TO QUEUE

⋮ ADD TO PLAYLIST

♡♡♡♡♡

💬 COMMENTS (0)

i CREDITS

CULTURE

Complex Systems

Birds of a feather flock together in this powerful avian animation

This film from Dutch photographer and director Desiree Dolron—originally screened in at GRIMM gallery space, New York—depicts an immense flock of digital starlings and the mesmerising shapes they form in the air. The artist, whose work is included in the collections of the Guggenheim in New York and Victoria and Albert Museum London, explores the singular beauty found in the natural world.

RELATED TOPICS

Video Art World Earth Day
Desiree Dolron

MORE TO LOVE

Complex Systems

"The artist's film amplifies the intense murmuring sound made by birds as they soar across the sky"

Dolron's animation amplifies the murmuring sound made by these flocks as they soar across the sky, giving the impression we are listening to human speech rather than the sound of thousands of beating wings.

Installation shot, Complex Systems at GRIMM gallery space, New York

The Artist is Present

A breakneck visual odyssey reveals the power of imitation in this partnership with Gucci

In Residence: Jim Olson

Up in the trees with the nature-loving architect

EDITORS

April 21, 2018

Ananda Pellerin
128 Followers